Santa Rosa Junior College

in Santa Rosa, CA

Santa Rosa Junior College (SRJC) is located in Sonoma County, which is in the heart of northern California's breathtakingly beautiful Wine Country. With the Pacific Ocean to the west, the Sierra Nevada Mountains to the east, and several lakes and rivers nearby, hiking, sailing, skiing, surfing, rafting, kayaking, and cycling are all easily accessible. San Francisco is easy to get to by public transportation where students can go shopping, ride a world-famous cable car, visit museums, attend festivals, and so much more.

SRJC was established in 1918, making it one of the oldest community colleges in California. Visitors can't help but notice the gorgeous ivy-covered brick buildings, the towering oak trees, the flower gardens, the meandering pathways, and manicured lawns. Without a doubt, it is one of the most beautiful campuses in the California Community College System.

With more than 100 majors, the program options are vast. Students can study biology, business, computer studies, engineering, nursing and more in state-of-the-art facilities on the main campus in Santa Rosa. SRJC also has a 365-acre farm and a culinary arts center where students can study animal science, culinary arts, enology, sustainable agriculture, viticulture, wine business, and more. Many SRJC students transfer to top ranked universities across the U.S. to complete bachelor degrees and more than 80% of SRJC students who apply to a University of California (UC) campus are accepted.

Student life is vibrant, with over 40 clubs, conference-winning athletic teams, nationally ranked speech and debate teams, and outstanding theatre arts, music and dance programs. The College attracts students from more than 30 countries around the world. SRJC is a vibrant cultural center of the Santa Rosa community offering exciting athletics events, concerts, films, lectures, and theatre and musical performances, among many other events.
